

U. S. HONORS DEAD AIRMAN

WOMAN, 63, DIES AS SHE WATCHES FLIERS

HEART ATTACK PROVES FATAL TO VISITOR AT ROCK SPRINGS

Mrs. India Shingleton Collapses as Performer Drops.

FRIGHT BLAMED

Death is Aftermath of Family Supper at Park.

Mrs. India R. Shingleton, 63, widow of J. M. Shingleton, formerly of Chester, fell dead while watching an outdoor performance of the Five Fearless Fliers at Rock Springs park, Chester, at 10:15 o'clock last night.

Aerialist Not Injured. Death, according to Dr. C. R. Campbell, was due to heart failure, superinduced by fright when one of the performers dropped from a trapeze into a net.

Mrs. Shingleton, a resident of Chester for about 45 years, had been living with her daughter, Mrs. William Boyce, Clark Avenue, Wellsville, for three months. Members of her family held a picnic supper at the park last evening and remained at the resort for the night.

One of the fliers had just completed a hazardous feat, blindfolded, and when he leaped from a trapeze bar one of the stakes was uprooted, causing the net to sag. The aerialist, however, was not injured.

Funeral Services Monday. Mrs. Shingleton was standing beside her son, Andrew Shingleton, when she collapsed. The latter caught her and carried her to one of the park benches. Dr. Campbell and Dr. George E. Lewis, Chester, who were summoned, pronounced Mrs. Shingleton dead. The body was removed to the Arner parlors, Chester.

Mrs. Shingleton is survived by four daughters Mrs. Hilton Ray and Mrs. Frank Snowdon, Chester; Mrs. Ann Kinsley, Chicago; and Mrs. Boyce, Wellsville and one son, Andrew, of Chester. She was a member of the Christian church.

Funeral services will be conducted in the Chester Christian church Monday afternoon.

Just an Even Break.
If Bryan Knew It.
Playing With Dynamite.
Seven in 56 Minutes.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review.)

WALL STREET, puzzled, had attacks of nerves Thursday and the day before. Usually high finance expects to elect the Republican nominated. In case of accident, the safest possible Democrat.

Now "The Street" sees one of its biggest men Democratic national chairman. Finance and speculation, most timid things on earth, next to a sick white rabbit and a soft-shell crab, fear a political war in financial circles.

NO such fear is justified. Mr. Raskob is a warm friend of Gov. Smith. He means to see to it that the governor "has an even break."

And Mr. Raskob's idea of an even break is no mere "50-50."

THE Democratic party discovers that Wall Street is no terrible wolf after all—just a nice old dog Tray. Imagine William Jennings Bryan if he came back and learned that the Wall Street demon had made a Democratic national chairman of the financial head of a FOUR THOUSAND MILLION DOLLAR CORPORATION!

Also imagine W. J. Bryan hearing of a Democratic campaign based on a war against prohibition. But you couldn't imagine that, neither could Bryan.

SPECULATORS refused comfort, however, and many stocks went to new low prices. General Motors selling in blocks of 10,000 shares was hammered down 11 points to 182 1/2.

Once more let the speculators remember that selling short is dangerous. Selling short a stock like General Motors, that might go to the roof, is playing with dynamite.

MR. SLOAN, president of General Motors, tells advertising men at Detroit that his company expects to sell next year 1,700,000 cars for about two (Continued on Page 8, Column 4)

CABINET CHOICE?

William V. Hodges, of Denver, the retiring treasurer of the Republican national committee, is being mentioned as a successor to Dr. Hubert Work, secretary of the interior. Secretary Work is expected to tender his resignation to the president when he visits Cedar Island lodge next week.

SEVEN NOBIL REFUGEES ARE ABOARD SHIP

Rescuers by Sea and Air Battles to Save Others.

SORA PICKED UP

Rumor Says Amundsen and Companions Were Found.

Heroic rescuers by sea and air are battling successfully in their desperate efforts to save stranded refugees of the Nobile expedition and ill-fated parties from the grip of the arctic.

Seven members of the expedition, who were saved from ice floes, are on board the Russian ice-breaker Krassin.

Capt. Sora, Italian chasseur, and his Dutch companions, Van Dongen, who lost their way while on a rescue mission on the coast of North East land, have been saved by airmen and taken to King's bay.

Unconfirmed reports were circulated in Moscow and Berlin that the Krassin has picked up the six members of the Nobile expedition who were carried away with the dirigible envelope on May 25. A rumor was current in Berlin that Capt. Roald Amundsen and his five companions who have been missing since June 18 when they set out to search for the missing members of the Nobile expedition, were found with the six Italians.

Only One Death Established. The death of Prof. Finn Malmgren, who was leader of the Mariano Zappi party, has not yet been officially established. But it is feared that he died of starvation and exposure after being left behind at Brock Island with a broken wrist and both legs frozen. Swedish airmen have been ordered to search for him.

MRS. ILA CRONIN LUNCHEON GUEST

Mrs. Ila Marshall Cronin, candidate for the Republican nomination for the general assembly and unopposed candidate for the state central committee woman from the 18th congressional district, will address a meeting of the Jefferson county Republican organization at Steubenville this afternoon. Her subject will be "Green or White Elephant."

Mrs. Cronin will be introduced by Mrs. E. T. Wood, chairman of the Jefferson County Women's G. O. P. club. Before the meeting Mrs. Cronin will be a guest at a luncheon which will be given in the Fort Steuben hotel.

LEETONIA "GAS" STATION ROBBED

Refreshment stand and gasoline station, owned and operated by Howard Stratton, Leetonia-Columbiana road, at the east end of Leetonia, was entered last night. Gasoline, oil, soft drinks and merchandise were taken.

The robbers smashed the two locks on the gasoline pumps and also the lock on the door of the refreshment stand. The robbery was discovered by a motorist who notified Leetonia police.

HOOVER WINDS UP CAREER IN CABINET; PLANS THREE DRIVES

Republican Nominee Leaves Tonight for Palo Alto.

EYES ON EAST

Midwest and Border States Also Will See Battle.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Herbert Hoover wound up his career as a cabinet officer today prior to leaving tonight on a swing across the country to be formally notified of his nomination to the presidency at his old home, Palo Alto, Calif.

In his last hours in the capital, Hoover put the finishing touches on his national organization here. He was said to have agreed with his lieutenants that "three campaigns in one" must be conducted to insure a Republican victory in November.

Major Battle in East. As outlined by one Hoover leader, the G. O. P. realizes that the major battle must be fought in the east to hold in line the normally Republican Atlantic seaboard states. This battle will be fought as though success in the election depends on winning each single state from Massachusetts to Delaware.

The issues raised will be Republican prosperity, the tariff, the business economy and security of Republican administrations and the alleged insecurity to business of Democratic administration.

A second drive will be made to hold in line the normally Republican states of the midwest, particularly Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin. The corn belt will be included in this campaign, although Hoover leaders anticipated little danger of a Democratic victory in any of the agricultural states.

In these states, the issues will be the same as in the east but with greater street thrown upon the anti-prohibition attitude of Governor Alfred E. Smith, the Democratic nominee.

Offensive in Border States. A third offensive will be launched to capture the border states, particularly Oklahoma, Missouri and Kentucky. This fight outside Maryland, will be confined to the prohibition issue if the Hoover leaders have their way. They feel that while chances of a Republican break in the "solid south" are extremely doubtful, there is a great opportunity to win the dry border states with Governor Smith advocating a change in the prohibition laws.

In his trip westward, Hoover will meet and confer with many Republican leaders. One of the purposes of these conferences will be to imbue the local leaders with the optimism shown by the Republican nominee himself. In the conferences here during the last two weeks, Hoover has convinced his callers that the Republican party will win in November but that the party must fight to win.

COLORED VOTERS TO MEET MONDAY

A permanent political organization will be formed at a mass meeting of colored male voters which will be held at the city hall, Third and Market streets, at 8 o'clock Monday night.

The meeting will be under the auspices of the Afro-American league. The Rev. John Jackson will be temporary chairman, and James Speed, temporary secretary.

SCOUTS SEARCH FOR LOST BOY

Kenneth Poe, 12, Missing Since Tuesday.

Boy Scouts from Troop 12 of the First Presbyterian church are scouring the hillsides back of the city today in an effort to locate Kenneth Poe, 12, son of Mrs. Sarah Poe, 772 Dresden avenue, who has been missing for six days.

The Poe boy started for the home of his grandmother who lives in the country about eight miles from town last Tuesday morning. Until yesterday his mother supposed that he had arrived at the grandmother's home. She leaves another son, Charles Lanza, of New Sheffield, Pa.

Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial will be made in Mill Creek cemetery.

Three Men Trapped in Sewer by Flood

Hundred Firemen and Policemen Attempt to Rescue Chicagoans Reported Missing After Water is Turned Into 12-foot Tunnel.

CHICAGO, July 14.—More than a hundred firemen and police officers worked today to locate three of 37 men who were trapped in a 12-foot sewer tunnel by a sudden flood of water.

Two months ago a cable damaged the sewer. The men were working in three shifts to clean out the debris and to reinforce the sewer with concrete from within.

The midnight shift had just gone on duty, according to reports to police, when Steve Szabo, foreman, sent a message to the pumping station to have some water turned into the sewer.

The pumping station attendant, turned on the tap, but through some misunderstanding, or because of the high water of the Calumet river, due to rain, a great wall of water swept into the tunnel. The workmen fled, but nine were trapped.

Carl Cherio, one of the workers, returned to the flooded tunnel and led seven of the men to safety. He returned to seek the other two, still missing, and failed to come back himself.

The workmen charged that after the water was turned on employees of the pumping station refused to shut it off until the station engineer could be found.

MRS. ROUDEBUSH DIES IN MINERVA

Mrs. Mary Roubush, 80, former resident of East Liverpool, died yesterday in the home of her son, Bert Roubush, in Minerva, after a short illness.

Mrs. Roubush leaves another son, W. O. Roubush, who formerly operated the wharfbat at the foot of Broadway, and two daughters, Mrs. Stella M. Johnson, Mineral Ridge, O., and Mrs. Emma McDole, Los Angeles, Calif. She was a sister of the late A. B. Allison of Chester.

Funeral services will be held in the home of her son at 12:30 tomorrow afternoon. Burial will be made in Mount Olive cemetery, 14 miles from Minerva.

MRS. WM. LANZE FRANKFORT, DIES

Mrs. Martha Lanza, 81, widow of William Lanza, died last night in the home of her son, A. M. Lanza, Hanover township, near Frankfort, Pa.

She leaves another son, Charles Lanza, of New Sheffield, Pa.

Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial will be made in Mill Creek cemetery.

The dry leader is expected to discuss the approaching presidential campaign as it pertains to enforcement of the prohibition laws.

POSSE CLOSES IN ON VILLAGE HOLDUP GANG

Two Men Killed and Two Wounded in Fight.

$6,000 STOLEN

Daring Raid Staged in Willow Creek, Calif.

EUREKA, Cal., July 14.—The final chapter of the sensational wild west holdup of the village of Willow Creek, 65 miles from here, in which a deputy sheriff and a bandit were killed and a rancher and another bandit wounded was expected to be written in blood today.

Two of the bandits are thought to be trapped in a canyon today, and a heavily armed posse expects to close in on them.

The fourth member of the bandit gang is thought to be badly wounded and hiding in the foothills.

Sweeping into Willow Creek behind a leaden hall, the bandits stopped in front of the general store and post office, loaded a safe containing approximately $6,000 in currency and money orders in their machine and roared out of the village.

Notified by telephone of the raid, Deputy Sheriff Charles Carpenter and Oscar H. Hayward, a rancher, headed for a bridge on Trinity river which they thought the fleeing bandits would cross.

Carpenter and Hayward opened fire as the bandits came to the bridge. After a hot exchange of shots, Carpenter fell dead, with a bullet in his brain. Hayward, probably mortally wounded, fell next.

Still firing from a prone position, Hayward said he saw one of the men stumble from the car, apparently badly wounded, and start for the mountains. A moment later the dead body of a bandit was thrown from the car by the remaining two.

WILLS $1,600,000 IN 64 WORDS

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., July 14.—Sixty-four words were all that J. J. Holloway, deceased Bridgeport banker and millionaire, used to dispose of his estate valued at $1,600,000. It was learned here today on the probating of his will. His wife, Mary B. Holloway, is sole heir.

This was the largest estate and shortest will ever probated in Belmont county, it was said.

Berlin Suburb Plans Celebration of First Electric Street Car

BERLIN.—The celebration by Lichterfelde, a suburb of Berlin, of its 50th anniversary recalls the fact that it can, in 1931, celebrate another semi-centennial. The first electric street railway in the world was operated here 47 years ago.

But the German inventor Werner Siemens succeeded in constructing an electric locomotive which drew small cars at the dizzy speed of more than four miles an hour at the Berlin Trade Exposition of 1879. A year later he began building a narrow-gauge railway for the then existing cadet school in Lichterfelde. A power plant and electric street cars were constructed.

The work was completed in 1881. The current was transmitted through a third rail; not until several years later did Siemens adopt the overhead wire and trolley. The current for this first railway was of 160 volts, each car had 26 seats, and reached a speed of more than 12 miles an hour. This line was in operation until 1896.

Eastern Business Concerns Using Air Mail Service

CHICAGO.—The East is rapidly matching the West in "Air mindedness" when Air Mail is taken as a criterion, show figures gathered by the American Air Transport Association.

The poundage carried over the transcontinental routes sometimes showed the west sending far greater volumes on the basis of population, than the east. However, in recent months with a larger use of air mail by eastern business houses and manufacturing concerns in getting shipments to distant points at a speed of 100 miles an hour, the east is cutting down the lead of the west in per capita poundage on the air routes now serving 38 states and 62 million people directly and millions more indirectly.

For the calendar year of 1927 southern California held the record for amount of air mail produced and received, population considered. Other routes which led in the volume of air mail on a population basis were: Pueblo-Cheyenne, San Francisco-Chicago, Dallas-Chicago, Chicago-New York, Salt Lake City-Seattle, Tacoma, Spokane, Portland route.

Feed Mash All Summer If You Want Real Pullets Next Fall

After 6 weeks change your birds from starting mash to Conkey's Gecco Growing Mash and Conkey's Growing Grains. Make the change gradually, taking about 10 days, then keep both mash and scratch in hoppers before the birds all the time until they are two-thirds grown; then substitute Conkey's Scratch Grains for the Growing Grains, but do not change the Gecco Growing Mash until the pullets are ready to lay.

You cannot go wrong on this method of feeding your growing stock. It is the most economical and practical way and will develop them more rapidly than any other. Try it and see for yourself.

Ohio Coal Mines Pass Million Tons in June

MINE STRIKE CHIEFS DEBATE POLICY CHANGE

Union Committee Still Deadlocked in Indianapolis.

LEWIS SILENT Decision Expected Before Adjournment Today.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 14.—After three full days spent in conference over the newly proposed policy of conducting the national bituminous

"Joan of Art"

Pretty Betty Robbins, of Los Angeles, has been chosen as "Joan of Art" by the Music and Radio Trades Association and will travel in the interest of Southern California's musical attainments. She is to visit virtually all of the larger cities of the United States as a lecturer and recitalist.

Thirty-two Workings Have Been Re-opened in Three Fields, Operators Says.

CLEVELAND.—That the Ohio coal industry, which for many years has been in a "bad way," due to labor strife and unfavorable freight rates is coming into "its own" again was indicated by recent advance reports that Ohio coal mines produced more than 1,000,000 tons of bituminous coal last June, several prominent Buckeye coal operators happily declared.

Thirty-two mines, operators claim have been reopened in the last two months in three Ohio fields—eastern Ohio, Hocking Valley and Cambridge—with a production which has steadily increased from 233,000 tons the first week in June to an estimated 275,000 tons in the final week of the same month. The total estimate of 1,015,000 tons of coal taken from Ohio workings in the sixth month of the year shows that the million ton mark has been topped for the first time since the soft coal strike was called nearly 15 months ago, it was said.

Many former union miners are now employed at the mines where the wage scale paid being a $5 base adopted last autumn by both Ohio and Eastern Ohio Coal Operators associations.

More than $100,000,000 has been lost to the railroads, merchants in the coal mining districts, the state, counties and towns through idleness and inability to compete with mines south of the Ohio river, statistics in the hands of J. L. Good, secretary of the Ohio Coal Bureau, showed. However, if the Ohio coal industry returns to capacity production the total, including railroad freight rates returned annually to Ohio would be more than $200,000,000, operators stated.

Ohio mines will be producing nearly 2,000,000 tons monthly within three months if the rate of increased production continues.

coal strike, the policy committee of the United Mine Workers of America were still deadlocked today. They were to resume deliberations this morning. It was freely predicted that a decision would be reached before adjournment of today's session.

International President John L. Lewis maintained his characteristic silence as to what went on in the conference chamber, barred to all save union leaders and members of the committee.

Lewis received prolonged applause at the close of yesterday's session, but this did not mean, it was pointed out, that the entire committee is in agreement with all of his views.

The meeting of the policy committee, now dragging into its fourth day, was called at the request of Illinois members who are seeking freedom of action in negotiating with operators to end their strike on the best terms possible.

The present union policy requires all negotiations to be on the basis of "no reduction in wages."

RAINBOW VETS NAME OFFICERS

J. A. Bruxner, Former "Mule Skinner," President.

COLUMBUS, O., July 14.—The second session of the reunion of veterans of the Rainbow division got under way here today with the election of officers and the formation of a woman's auxiliary scheduled to feature the day's program. The national association of the division yesterday approved plans for the formation of the auxiliary.

John A. Bruxner, Columbus, former "mule skinner" in the 156th infantry, was elected president of the Ohio chapter of the Rainbow Veterans' association at yesterday's business meeting of the chapter. Burton A. Spiegler, Cleveland, and Dr. Angus MacIvor, Marysville, former major in the medical corps, were elected vice presidents.

Protest was registered against the abandonment of the soldiers and sailors orphans' home at Xenia, at the meeting, the organization also going on record in favor of the perpetuation of the Rainbow division by National Guard units. The Ohio chapter also accepted the invitation of the 37th division for the Rainbow division veterans to participate in a memorial pilgrimage to France in 1929.

The National Association of the Veterans was addressed at yesterday's session by Barre Blumenthal, Chicago, national president; Maj. Gen. Benson W. Hough, Columbus, former commander of the 156th infantry; the Rev. Father Francis P. Duffy, New York, chaplain of the 156th infantry, and Col. William P. Screws,

Red Cross Methods are Taught by Physical Director T. F. Scheffer and A. J. Manton.

Eight boys are enrolled in the life-saving class which was organized under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian association Friday. They are: Robert Burbick, Donald Farmer, Ross Conn, Robert Hall, Nathan Brenner, Lawrence Smith, James Goodbal and Edwin Anderson.

Red Cross and Y. M. C. A. life-saving methods will be taught by Physical Director T. F. Scheffer and A. J. Manton, a Red Cross examiner. The class will meet every Tuesday and Friday afternoon.

Y. M. C. A. swimming pool has lost none of its popularity of former years, according to the June report of Director Scheffer.

Total attendance recorded for the pool and shower baths was 2,370. Fifty-two boys were taught to swim 50 feet, while 16 others passed Red Cross and Y. M. C. A. swimming tests.

Several tournaments with baseball games, hikes, nature study and Bible classes are on the program for July.

Baltimore, former commander of the 167th infantry, Brig. Gen. G. A. Dumont, French military attaché at Washington, also spoke briefly.

A parade of the veterans will be held today.

Youths Explore River.

Two youths, Max Gray and Arthur Lee Hunt, of Goulburn, Australia, have just completed a 150 mile canoe voyage down the previously unexplored parts of the Sheolhaven river of that country. Many earlier attempts to make the trip had failed. The voyage required 26 days, the way being so rough and rocky that on some days only three miles were covered. Near Terrica, a beautiful waterfall, 200 feet high, was discovered. The river teemed with fish, and traces of gold were found in the gulches.

Chemists Plan To Discuss Science As Defense Aid

CICAGO.—A national conference on "Chemistry and Other Sciences in National Defense" will be held on August 18 at Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill., in connection with the sessions of the Institute of Chemistry of the American Chemical Society.

The program includes a demonstration by aeroplanes over Lake Michigan. Smoke screens will be laid down, and various maneuvers of chemical warfare will be shown.

One aim of the conference, according to the announcement, is to show that chemistry by no means stands alone as a destructive science of modern warfare but that all sciences, even those seemingly as harmless as psychology and astronomy, play an important part.

Major General Paul B. Malone, commanding general of the Sixth Corps Area will speak on "National Preparedness." H. Edmund Bullis, executive secretary, National Association for Chemical Defense, Washington, D. C., will discuss "The Reaction of the General Public to the Use of Gas in Warfare."

Patterson Field Job

Judging from street talk, there is a difference of opinion on the improvement program planned by the board of education at Patterson Athletic field, which was decided to the East Liverpool school district by the late Monroe Patterson.

Under a contract recently awarded, installation of a lateral drainage system is now under way in the West End acreage, which has been more of a lake than a sports field during most of the year.

Including $4,000 already expended for a wire fence, which was ordered by the old school board and is to be erected this year, and $2,000 or $3,000, which, it is estimated, will pay the school's share of a sewer outlet under the Pennsylvania railroad tracks, about $12,000 or $13,000 will be invested in the field before another year is noted. Of this sum, $6,000 will be required to meet the cost of tile, which is to be covered with cinders, in the main playing field. One dissenting vote was cast against the latter award because the majority of the board members were willing to proceed with the drainage plan before constructing the main sewer. The explanation is the money, already appropriated, would revert to the general fund if not expended this year.

The program provides for a drainage system without a fill, and this, it is said, is contrary to the plan proposed by the donor of the field before his death. In fact, through the efforts of the late Mr. Patterson, a bill was made at the north end of the athletic grounds, but later complaints by West End residents resulted in a ban on the dumping of refuse there.

Although an engineer has approved the program now under way, dissenters say the school board's plan will not solve the drainage problem; that the logical thing to do is to fill the field to the West Fourth street extension level, thus providing a natural flow for surface water.

There is no disposition to oppose the improvement of the sports field, the condition of which has precluded the possibility of baseball games this season, but there is no occasion for haste. The proposition should be studied from all angles, and then the most feasible and inexpensive plan adopted.

Belgium's Tribute

American engineers who died during the World war will be memorialized by a new carillon installed in the Singing Tower at Louvain (Belgium) university. The carillon has 48 bells, one for each of the United States.

Bells are so commonly used today that their importance in ancient and medieval times is often forgotten, as the Illustrated Encyclopedia Britannica points out. The Chinese used bells in their worship 5,000 years ago. The robes of Jewish priests in the Old Testament times tinkled with tiny bells. The Romans adorned their horses with them, and silver bells were coveted Roman prizes.

The civilized world is literally filled with bells. If the telephone companies plugged in an every telephone in the United States, more than 36,000,000 bells would ring simultaneously. Nearly every residence has a door bell. Most of them have alarm clocks with bells, and many of them are old-fashioned enough to have dinner bells.

In the cities, bells of fire apparatus are used to warn the populace of its speedy approach. Life on the seas is regulated by bells, and on land the bells on locomotives give off familiar and warning sounds. When secular bells rest church bells toll the hours of religious services.

Christian churches did not use bells until the fifth or sixth century. The first church bells were made in Campania, Italy, and used in churches in Rome. After a little more than a century their popularity influenced a pope to ordain that every church should have one.

Marco Polo tells about a large bell suspended in the center of Peking from a lofty building, but early European bells were tiny things compared with the modern giants. Many of the hand bells in general use were made from hammered iron, riveted together and shaped like a so-called cow bell.

Moscow claims the largest bell actually in use, a bell which weighs 128 tons. Upper Burma has one weighing 80 tons. The United States has the highest swing bell. It is attached to the clock mechanism in the Metropolitan Tower, New York city, 700 feet above the street. Gotham also has one of the world's two largest carillons, with 53 bells.

No bell, however, is more famous than the cracked old Liberty Bell in Independence hall, Philadelphia.

Obregon's Visit to U. S.

President-Elect Obregon, of Mexico, is planning a visit to Washington before he begins his six-year term. This will be a good thing for Mr. Obregon. He will be able to gather some valuable tips from American peace, prosperity and tolerance, which, although they have been somewhat neglected by the people south of the Rio Grande, have nevertheless been on their doorstep for many years.

Since Dwight Morrow went to Mexico as American ambassador there has been manifestation of a friendly spirit toward Uncle Sam.

If this interest is kept alive there is justification for the hope that Mexico's economic and political structure will soon be made to stand upon a more rugged foundation, with the inevitable and much-to-be-desired result that there will be a better understanding between the two republics.

Cheese Eating in U. S.

Although the people of the United States now are consuming about 4.36 pounds of cheese per capita, annually, as compared with 3.5 pounds in 1921, Americans still are far behind when it comes to the heavy cheese eating class.

In Switzerland, the per capita consumption is approximately 23 pounds, and in France, Denmark and the Netherlands approximately 13 pounds. Even Germany and Great Britain exceed America in the eating of cheese.

In the opinion of dairy specialists of the United States department of agriculture, it should be possible to increase the consumption of cheese in this country by improving the quality of the produce and by disseminating knowledge as to its uses, food value and varieties.

HASKIN DAILY LETTER

By Frederick J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 14.—American industry has passed through many different phases and has adopted many expedients for advancement, some of which might be called fads. The present age in industry seems to be an age of czars—supreme rulers whose word is almost law in relation to organized activities of producers who make up the industries. At present there are four such and it is an interesting fact that all four have previously been connected in one way or another with the service of the federal government.

The first great industry to appoint a supreme arbiter was the baseball industry which chose a federal judge, Kenesaw Mountain Landis. The man in the street perhaps might question the calling of organized baseball an industry because its product from the public point of view is merely sport. It is, however, a very large business composed of important units. Baseball clubs are important business organizations, usually corporations having stockholders and paying dividends.

Next came appointment of another czar, Will Hays, head of the movies. Here again is an amusement field but one which has grown to tremendous business proportions. Approximately $750,000,000 a year now is paid by the American public to go to the movies and the producing companies are great corporations which issue bonds and wield a large financial influence. Mr. Hays, it will be recalled was postmaster general of the United States.

Whether the cue was taken from these two great amusement industries or whether some other reason existed, the system of appointing an industrial czar now has been adopted by industries of another type, a former federal official again being chosen. The rubber industry has chosen General Lincoln C. Andrews to take charge of its affairs, adjust disputes within the industry and arrange agreements for the conduct of the business most likely to bring the best results to all members. General Andrews was not long ago an Assistant Secretary of the Treasury and because of his duties there was able to gain some experience in handling large and complicated affairs.

The latest former federal official to obtain a job as czar of an industry is Walker D. Hines. Hines was the successor of William G. McArdoo as director general of railroads in the period following the Armistice. He has been chosen by the cotton textile industry, one of the greatest in the country.

In all probability the fashion for the selection by great industries of supreme referees sprang from the war and the consequent conduct of internal affairs by the government. Never before in the history of the country had vast industries been placed under such individual domination.

The greatest industry in this or any country is the food industry in all its branches and although no such position had ever existed before under the federal or any other government, Herbert Hoover, later secretary of commerce and now Republican presidential nominee, was named food administrator by President Wilson. Every branch of the food industry came under his sway.

The next greatest industry for which a supreme head was named was the inland transportation industry. William G. McArdoo was appointed director general of railroads with supreme power over every railroad project in the country and over the operation of every railroad. Inland waterway transportation, too, came under his jurisdiction.

Then, too, there was the fuel industry, of vital importance during the war. Harry A. Garfield, son of former President Garfield, was named fuel administrator and had charge of the mines.

These were the great industries of special importance in the carrying on of war, but the system of supreme referees did not stop there. The rest of the industries were placed under still another czar when Bernard Baruch was made chairman of the war industries board.

Messrs. Landis, Hays, Andrews and Hines, the four czars or present day private industry, lack, of course, the congressional sanction and back which the wartime heads had, but it seems certain the idea of one general head had its origin in wartime experiences. These four men were chosen voluntarily by the members of the industries they now represent, whereas, during the war the administrators were named by the president and their authority imposed on the industries whether they liked it or not.

How far American industry will go with this new fashion is not known but the idea seems to be catching on. Perhaps this will be a country of industrial czars, big and little.

Q. How many beacon lights are there on the air route between Atlanta, Georgia, and New York City? D. A. H. A. There are 81 flood lights, 10 miles apart, on the air mail route between Atlanta, Georgia, and New York City, N. Y. At a regular flight altitude between 1000 and 25000 feet on a clear night these lights can be seen 40 and 50 miles away. Each light has a 2,000,000 beam candle power, 24 inches in diameter, and revolve 6 revolutions a minute.

Q. Does artificial or natural ice keep things colder? T. E. R. A. Artificial ice is often of great density. When it is, it has better keeping qualities.

Q. What caused the picture rocks on Lake Superior? L. D. A. They are immense rocks with striking picture effects caused by the wear of waves dashing over them.

Q. Does the alpaca resemble the sheep? E. S. A. The body of the alpaca has somewhat the form of the sheep, but it has a long neck. It is also more active and carries its head erect.

Q. Why is not spider's silk used commercially? L. McC. A. Spider's silk is not manufactured because of the spider's cannibalistic tendencies. It would require a separate box for each one, therefore the process would be too costly.

NEW YORK Day By Day

By O. O. McIntyre.

NEW YORK, July 14.—The white slave traffic does not flourish in America as it does in Europe, but its poisonous tentacles reach here. New York is still a "depot" from which a few girls listed in desultory headlines as "Missing From Home" are shipped to European concentration centers.

The East Side has many agencies known by the misused term of "cadets"—who are under constant surveillance. So has Chicago. The victims are almost invariably poorly paid girls in factories and shops, betrayed in their despairing search for companionship.

Once they leave American shores, life offers little for which to hope. Their usual destination is Buenos Ayres, and there is no record of one ever coming back. It is said there are more than 500 from New York and environs who have disappeared in this manner.

The formula for collecting what the white slavers call "baggage" in New York is simple. Poverty breeds the "baggage." A young girl, struggling futilely for the bare necessities, is approached by the well-dressed stranger and invited to a dance hall, movie or cheap cabaret.

There is a chivalric attitude, tremendously impressive in a life of drabness. There comes a box of candy, then a bit of wearable finery, and in a few weeks she is visiting the hair dressers, beauty parlors and dress-making establishments. She is being groomed for hell.

In the first stages of companionship there is rarely love-making. The attitude is paternal, and establishes a confidence. The victim fails to realize she is being baited for the sor did life she is to lead. When she becomes presentable and attractive the trap is sprung.

She is invited abroad as "a secretary." A love of luxury has been implanted, and what appears to be the realization of an impossible dream is never suspected until she is turned over to "Le Millieu" or "The Center" in Paris.

The White Slave King is not entirely a creation of the cheaper melodrama and yellow backs. In Europe where trafficking in women is regarded in a less hideous light, there are several auctioneers who have attained not only wealth but a certain social prominence. There is one in Paris, generally reputed about the bars to be a leader, who mingles among smart crowds at the Ritz Sunday night dinners, at the opera and race courses. He is a monocled fashion plate and one of the town's heaviest spenders.

A new night haunt is a pastry shop where patrons stand at a marble counter. My selection was one of those spring trigger backfiring chocolate eclairs which sprayed my necktie and vest with a yellow ooze just as a beautiful actress tripped in. A pastry parlor is no place for an old fruit, anyway. I am not the type.

But selecting French pastry is swell fun for a guy with no bringing up. You can point without raising a supercilious eyebrow.

A hardened New Yorker rarely looks up from his newspaper at the views of domestic bliss offered from the winding path of the elevated as it coils through tenement districts. It is not so much a feeling of delicacy as it is he is used to it. But the stranger gazes at the slice of life disclosed by the overhead with the broad sympathy he brings to bear upon life along home town streets on summer evenings when the blinds are up and porches full.

To carry a gun in New York is a prison offense, yet a police official says there are more carried than in Chicago. "Most men," he declares, "who make a living in strange ways here carry large guns." Mine is not especially large—just sized so as not to destroy the set of my clothes.

YOUR HEALTH

An Ounce of Prevention Is Worth A Pound of Cure.

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland.

My mail contains inquiries about hay fever. The sufferers are seeking relief.

One man writes that on the 5th of August for ten years he has had the first evidence of this trouble. Another person writes that for the month of July she is troubled with this annoyance and for the rest of the year is perfectly well. Every victim appears to have a set time to suffer from the symptoms of hay fever.

The pollen from certain flowers, the dust from hay, the dandruff from horses, dogs or cats, and the effects of certain vegetables, are among the most common exciting factors in bringing on hay fever.

As soon as the susceptible person is exposed to the exciting cause of hay fever the first of a chain of symptoms appear. Sneezing, difficult breathing, feeling of fullness in the head, inability to sleep, loss of appetite and constant fatigue, all appear. The nasal and breathing symptoms are usually most acute.

It has been found by a series of tests what particular thing is responsible for the trouble. These "sensitization tests" are made as follows: If, for example, tomatoes or the pollen of roses is thought to be the irritating article, a serum is made from this substance.

The affected person is then tested by injecting under his skin a small amount of this particular serum. If there is a reaction and the doctor decides to go further, the serum is given at regular intervals until the system becomes protected against the disease.

In many cases, however, after every test has been exhausted the hay fever still persists. Some day we may complete our knowledge. Until then we must be satisfied as best we can by change of climate, local treatment for the nasal irritation, and care of the diet are most important. Wherever any foodstuff is found to be the cause, this article must be entirely eliminated from the diet.

There are many preparations for use in inhalers and sprays which give temporary relief and promote sleep. Your doctor will advise you about these.

Stramonium leaves and nitrate of potash burned together are helpful in some cases. This is a common treatment for asthma and may be useful in hay fever.

Opiates should never be taken except under the doctor's instruction. As a matter of fact, the medication should be confined to the advice of the physician.

Most large hospitals now have a special clinic for treatment of hay fever sufferers. Here the best doctors give advice which does much to relieve the victim of hay fever.

Most sufferers from this disease if they can afford to do so, are best aided by change of climate. The President has found this to be the most satisfactory method to employ and others have followed this practice for years.

Completion of a plant soft coal merger in West Virginia is a step closer with approval of the proposed plan by stockholders of several of the companies to be included. Among them are the Rockefeller controlled Consolidation Coal Co., which recently announced its intention of closing part of its mines in order to keep the rest in regular operation and to give full time employment to miners retained.

This is also the purpose of the pending consolidation which would bring together into a single corporation mine assets estimated as high as 200,000,000. And as a result, of course, a fair profit where many blameworthy operators have seen nothing but deficits for years.

While much has been said of the backwardness of mining processes in connection with the depression in the coal industry—and the introduction of better machinery has been proposed as one of the ways out of the difficulty—these actually in the business are finally convinced that measures of that kind will avail little as long as the industry remains in its present overdeveloped condition.

Closing part of the mines, presumably those in which production costs are highest, is now pretty widely accepted as necessary to the solution of the problem. With the present organization of the industry, however, progress in that direction must be necessarily slow. Only a few of the most important factors, such as the Consolidation for example, could apply this remedy.

In that light the trend toward larger production units in the industry appears as a constructive development. Stockholders in a merged enterprise will reap the advantage of closing certain properties, which, if closed under the present setup, would involve probably a complete loss to many investors.

Mergers in this field will, of course, encounter the usual difficulty with anti-trust legislation. But with the data the government has collected in its own investigations of the industry, it may be willing to go half way with operators in measures looking toward a better condition for the industry and all employed in it.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

GIVE YOUR MIND A WORKOUT.

By J. J. Muney.

Are you allowing yourself to get into the habit of avoiding anything that necessitates hard thinking?

In your selection of reading matter, do you choose only that which entertains?

Do you rest aside books that cannot be read without thought?

If you have followed, even for a short time, your inclination to protect yourself against anything that required the use of brain power, you must have noticed certain results.

One of these is that the more you pursue this course the more difficult it becomes to concentrate on definite study in any subject.

You like to excuse yourself by saying that your daily work tires your head and uses your brain enough to satisfy you.

This may be true in certain pursuits.

But the majority of work-a-day occupations are marked by routine.

The same kind of thought, day after day, is not broadening.

Routine becomes habit, and though in a groove is not the right sort of brain exercise, so seek variety in brain work and study something each day. Copyright, 1928, International Feature Service, Inc.

APOLLO MALE CHORUS PRESENTS MUSICALE AT MRS. W. V. BLAKE'S HOME

Mrs. Ruth Bailey Standley, Miss Mildred Weaver and Rowland Kaufman Assist.

One hundred persons attended the musicale presented by the Apollo Male Chorus of the First Presbyterian church last night at the home of Mrs. W. V. Blake in St. Clair avenue, under the auspices of Circle No. 6, of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary society. The chorus was assisted by Mrs. Ruth Bailey Standley, Miss Mildred Weaver and Rowland Kaufman, in the following program:

Chorus, "The Song of Thanksgiving." Vocal solos (a) "I Bring You Hearts," (b) "Little Boy Blue."—Mrs. Ruth Bailey Standley.

Chorus, "Hush, Hush, Somebody's Calling My Name." Vocal duets (a) "Go Pretty Rose," (b) "A Dream."—Miss Mildred Weaver and Rowland Kaufman.

Negro Spiritual, "Steal Away."—Chorus.

Quartet, "Silvia."—Miss Mildred Weaver, Frances Whitaker Morton, Rowland Kaufman and W. A. Macdonald.

Negro Spiritual, "Oh Mary, Don't You Weep, Don't You Mourn." Vocal solos (a) "Sacrament," (b) "Silver Threads Among the Gold."—Mrs. Ruth Bailey Standley.

Vocal solos (a) "Beloved It Is Morn," (b) "Blue Eyes."—Rowland Kaufman.

"Out in the Fields With God"—Chorus.

Mrs. J. F. Calhoun and Miss Jessie Hall were accompanists.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Howard Blake and members of Circle No. 6.

Hostess to Lincoln Way Club.

A color scheme of yellow and blue predominated in the decorations of Camp Rest, Glenmoor, last evening, when Mrs. Omar Ryan received members of the Lincoln Way club. Solos were sung by Byron Fickle, and readings given by Mrs. Margaret Kraft. Dancing was also a diversion, the music being played by the Golden Star orchestra.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Albert Kraft. Covers were arranged for 75.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Temple of Leontia; Miss Ruth Coffey of Follansbee, W. Va.; Mr. and Mrs. George Callendine and sons, Billy and George of Wheeling; Mrs. Nellie Lane of Oklahoma City, Okla.; Miss Elizabeth Fortner and Kenneth Meyers of this city.

In two weeks the club will meet at Camp Rest, with Mrs. Louis Shepherd as hostess.

The Old Apple Tree

The old apple tree—the dearest friend of childhood days and now that she's grown-up she still comes to its welcoming arms with all her happiness and her secrets and whispers them to its murmuring comment.

How many happy hours she's spent in the old swing idly dreaming of days to come when Prince Charming would come riding down the road, plume and white charger and gorgeous retinue—and sweep her right up and away to his castle to live happily forever and ever as his dearly beloved Princess.

Ah, well, dreams do come true, but even though the Man-o'-her-heart is knickered and sweated and doesn't at all fit in with her Prince, still he's the prince of her heart and the old apple tree nods and sways happily as it watches them and listens to another love story and sees another love dream come true.

Woman Taxi Driver Finds Average Man is Courteous

Mrs. Edith M. Baker, her fox terrier Snooky and the taxicab in which she cruises for fares in the shadows of New York's night life.

(International Newsreel)

Even When He's "Tight" He's a Gentleman, Says Mrs. Baker

By SHIRLEY KIRKE
International Illustrated News Staff Writer

YOUR typical city dweller—even when not entirely sober—is a perfect gentleman.

This accolade is from one who knows—a woman taxicab driver. She is Mrs. Edith M. Baker, of No. 1 E. Two Hundred and Thirteenth street, the Bronx, New York City. Just five feet two inches tall and weighing 112 pounds, she has been driving a taxi steadily for five years. Mostly she drives at night; it is more profitable. But always she is accompanied by her fox terrier, Snooky, who sits in the driver's seat beside her.

"I suppose it is because of my natural reserve," says Mrs. Baker, "but I have yet to encounter a masculine fare who wasn't thoroughly polite to me. As to the inebriated—and I've hauled some pretty tight ones—they are even more courteous than the others."

The woman chauffeur has a son, Scott, sixteen, and it was to educate him that she decided to go into the taxi business. She now owns her own car and in the good seasons averages from $50 to $60 a week. At the same time she maintains an apartment, where she keeps house for her son.

"I am really at a disadvantage compared with the men drivers. They have their wives at home and can work from twelve to fourteen hours and then go home and rest. When I get there I must take up my household duties.

"Still, I like the work. To me it is infinitely better than nursing or working in an office."

Mrs. Baker always has liked mechanics and any repair job she isn't able to do herself is of a rather serious and complicated nature. She doesn't swear, smoke or use slang. In fact, once her driver's uniform is off she is an attractive housewife, with a mop of curly, black hair and gentle gray eyes. Curiously, she loves to work in her home and confesses she just adores making baby clothes.

"The next thing I want to do," she confided, "is to learn to pilot an airplane. I'd like to be a commercial flier if such a thing is possible."

City Asks $17,519.07 For All Repair Work

Itemized List of Actual and Anticipated Expenditures is Filed With State Tax Commission.

Wellsville will need $17,519.07 to erise the effects of recent rain storms. This is the total of the itemized estimate prepared by City Engineer H. D. McGill at the request of the state tax commission and which was mailed to the commission yesterday.

Through the board of health the city appealed to the tax commission for permission to borrow funds for storm repair work and the commission, while not promising anything, indicated at least it would hear the facts in the case by asking for the estimate.

The engineer's estimate shows that the city has spent $4,143 actually and anticipates expenses amounting to $13,376.

The estimate follows:

Temporary water supply, $267.15; actual; $80 anticipated; main water line repairs, $2,445.79; actual; $3,505 anticipated; spillway repairs, $3,100; anticipated; cleaning reservoir of debris, $88.96; actual; special aid during storm, $21.85; actual; Allen run sewer, $975; anticipated; Eighteenth street district, $600; anticipated; McQueen's run sewer, $1,100; anticipated; general street work, $1,072.06; actual; and $435 anticipated; general sewer work, $263.31; actual, and $350 anticipated; miscellaneous, $43.95 actual, and $15 anticipated; 10 per cent of anticipated expenditures for unforeseen contingencies, $1,216; total actual expenses, $4,143.07; total anticipated expenditures, $13,376; grand total, $17,519.07.

The figures are based on what has actually been done to date, both as to temporary and permanent work, and on the estimate of what it will cost to restore conditions to normalcy, the engineer says.

TELEPHONE CO. ASKS RENEWAL OF FRANCHISE

Officials Hold Parley With Mayor and Solicitor.

PLAN ORDINANCE

Council to Discuss Legislation Tuesday Night.

As a result of a parley between telephone company and Wellsville officials here yesterday, definite action toward the establishment of a franchise for the former probably will be started by council at its meeting Tuesday night.

The telephone company has been operating here without a franchise for probably a year as a result of inability of council and company representatives to reach an agreement on franchise provisions, concerning chiefly the number of free telephones that would be placed at the municipality's convenience.

Frank Swaney, manager of the East Liverpool office, C. F. Gense, of Steubenville, district commercial manager headed the telephone company representatives who met with Mayor Wallace L. Fogo and City Solicitor Raymond Knepper here yesterday.

It is likely that the telephone and city officials will get together with council Tuesday night and map out plans for the preparation of a franchise. In all probability the franchise, then, will be brought in at a later session of council for definite action.

The telephone company also pledged cooperation with the city in the removal of pole stumps and maintenance of its equipment.

BOYS WILL FACE MAYOR MONDAY

Approximately 20 boys who have been apprehended by Wellsville police while the former were hauling refuse or dumping it along the McQueen's run road, will appear before Mayor W. L. Fogo Monday night.

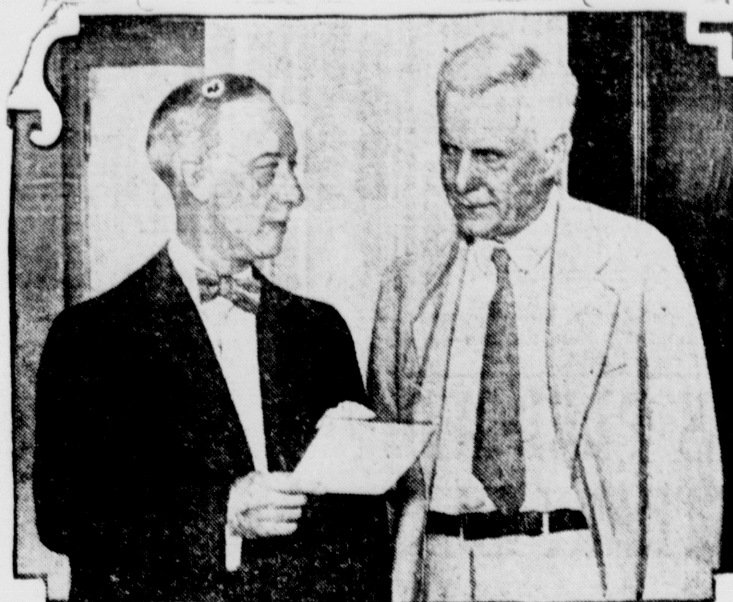

Dumping of refuse along the road is prohibited, the city stressing the fact that such refuse may eventually find its way into the storm sewer.

She Criticizes Al

After her husband relinquished the chairmanship of the Democratic national committee, Mrs. Clem Shaver, above, took a parting shot at Governor Alfred E. Smith, opining that the nominee of the party had "stamped himself as a charlatan and fakir" by failing to decline the nomination when delegates adopted the so-called dry plank.

Confer on Democratic Campaign

Governor Alfred E. Smith, Democratic nominee, and Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri, himself a former aspirant for the honor, are firm in the belief that victory will perch on their banner in the coming elections. They were photographed in Governor Smith's suite in a New York hotel.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK July 14.—Under the lead of steel and motor shares, moderate price gains were scored in quiet and featureless trading on the New York stock exchange in the first period today. Strength in the steel stocks accompanied the favorable comment on current conditions in the steel industry by the head of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company, and steel common rose a point to $13.74.

Normal summer contraction in important lines of domestic trade is smaller than usual, according to the weekly trade reviews. The industrial outlook at the turn of the half-year was reported as favorable, particularly for the motor car, steel and building construction industries. Building shows no sign of abatement in the centers of population, and will doubtless continue to furnish a backlog of prosperity for the country at large.

With the exception of the activity in a few of the oil and motor stocks, the market was extremely dull in the second hour, conditions more nearly approaching refining continued to move forward on reports of new alignments with this company in the extension of the retail gasoline business in the state of Pennsylvania. Standard Oil of New Jersey and New York commanded a firm market, as also did the Pan American.

Find Bust of Shelly In English Farmhouse; Done by Leigh Hunt

LONDON, July 14.—In a small Sussex farmhouse, what is believed to be a remarkable literary discovery has been made—no less than the only existing temporary bust of the poet Shelley.

Experts have been engaged for many years patiently tracking down this treasure and establishing its authenticity. The conclusive clue may prove to be a letter referring to it from Rossetti to Browning.
The bust, executed by Leigh Hunt during Shelley's last years, was intended for the poet's grave, but it was rejected as being too realistic. Hunt left it to Carlyle, and Carlyle left it to Browning and after a lapse of more than thirty years, during which its real identity was completely forgotten, it was sold for a trifle in 1913 at a Browning sale. At that time it was labelled "Browning's uncle."
The discovery has caused considerable excitement in literary circles.

ORCHARD GROVE AVENUE WORK IS COMPLETED

Smithfield Street to Be Opened Next Month.

LIST OTHER WORK

Contractor Patterson Moves Equipment to East End.

Contractor George B. Patterson, Wellsville, yesterday, completed the improvement of Orchard Grove avenue and Smithfield street and today moved his equipment to Harker avenue where he has an unfinished project.

The Orchard Grove avenue grading and surfacing begins at Anderson boulevard and extends to the John Simballa property, Smithfield street, which was previously graded and curbed, was surfaced between McKinnon and Orchard Grove avenues.

Holds Ninth Street Job. Orchard Grove avenue between St. Clair avenue and Anderson boulevard is open to travel. The rest of the avenue and Smithfield street will not be opened for about three weeks.

Patterson also holds the contract for the resurfacing of West Ninth street between Panton and Lishon street. That part of thoroughfare between the street car rails and for two feet on either side of the tracks will be brick on a concrete base. Amiesite will be used in the resurfacing on either side of the tracks. Patterson also recently finished the resurfacing of East Ninth street from Woodlawn to Lincoln avenues.

Paving of West Sixth street between Monroe street and West alley is being delayed because the Steubenville, East Liverpool & Beaver Valley Traction company's portable crossovers are being used in Wellsville where a new bridge is being erected over Yellow Creek. This job is to be completed this fall as well as the connecting link between East Second street and Broadway. Both contracts are held by Patterson.

Council is to consider legislation for the improvement of Fourth street between Union street and Monroe streets at a meeting Monday night. The Newell Street Railway & Bridge company has consented to rebuild its tracks and to pave between the rails and two feet on either side of the rails if the improvement is brick on a concrete base.

hind at Brown island by his companions, and his fate is not definitely known.

Aviator Chuchnovsky, who located the Mariano-Zappi party, and his companions, are marooned on the coast of North East Land, but they have plenty of provisions and it is expected that the Krassin will soon pick them up.

Gen. Umberto Nobile is recovering from illness on board the supply ship Citra Di Milano.

So far the death of only one member of the expedition has been officially established. This victim was Vincenzo Pomella, who was crushed to death by ice on May 25.

Plows Way Through Ice. MOSCOW, July 14.—Plowing its way southward through the ice-floes with seven rescued survivors of the Italia tragedy aboard, the Soviet ice-breaker Krassin today headed for Cape Platten, North East Land, where the Russian aviator, Chuchnovsky, and his four companions are stranded.

Chuchnovsky was the flier who sighted Captains Mariano and Zappi, two of the trio of General Nobile's men who left the dirigible's command to trek across the ice for aid and then were lost six weeks. After sighting them he was forced down by fog. The landing gear of his plane was damaged in coming down.

A radio message received from the Krassin's physician today stated that Mariano was in a feverish condition because of long exposure. Both his companion, Capt. Zappi, is in a good condition, the doctor's message stated, as are four of the five members of the "Red Tent" group who were also saved by the Krassin. Cecconi, the fifth of the party, is progressing as well as can be expected considering that he is suffering from a seriously fractured leg. The doctor stated that he believed all the men would recover.

Malmgren's Fate is Mystery. No word had been received from the Krassin early today to indicate that there was any credence in the reports circulated that the ice-breaker had also located and rescued the six members of the Italia crew who were carried aloft with ship's gas bag when it crashed on the morning of May 25.

The fate of Dr. Finn Malmgren, the Swedish explorer, who led Mariano and Zappi across the ice, is still a mystery. Latest reports from the Krassin state that his body was not taken aboard as was first reported by the Soviet relief committee.

Professor Samoylovich has personally radioed that Malmgren's body was not taken aboard the Krassin. By radio, Chuchnovsky yesterday reiterated that he had seen two men up right waving at him and a third lying on the ice, apparently lifeless, according to Russian correspondents aboard the Krassin.

EXAMINE 181 SCHOOL PUPILS

First and Second Children's Clinic Closes.

One hundred and eighty-one first and second grade pupils were examined in the pre-school clinic which was conducted at the Central school building this week under the direction of the board of education.

A complete record of each child has been retained by Miss Esther C. Neal, school nurse, for follow-up work during the fall term of school. Parents, whose children were found to be suffering from physical ailments, have been notified, with the recommendation that the trouble be eliminated before the opening of school in September.

Local physicians and health board officials who conducted the clinic, were assisted by two state health board doctors and nurses. This is the first clinic of this kind ever conducted in East Liverpool.

Barber Shears Plunged in Chest. AKRON, O., July 14.—Seven-year-old Albert Walbeck may die as the result of an unusual accident here. The child while playing on her bed with a pair of barber shears became entangled in the bed covering and lost her balance. She fell from the bed, the shears plunging deep into her chest near the heart.

leather jacket and evidence of charring on one wing of the plane appeared to support this theory.

Lieut. F. W. Bullock, U. S. A., however, reported after an investigation last night that Carranza apparently had attempted to land to escape the storm and had crashed when his path was blocked by trees. He pointed out that the throttle of the engine had been closed and the spark advanced, and that the luckless aviator apparently had been trying to locate a safe landing place with the aid of a flash light to which his fingers clung.

Parachute Fails to Open.

In further support of this theory was the testimony of residents of Trenton that a plane had dropped a landing flare at Mercer airport, Trenton, at about 8 o'clock Thursday evening. The crash occurred shortly after 8 o'clock, it is believed. The plane over the airport, after circling around a few times, flew away when the pilot apparently decided not to land. Carranza apparently jumped from the falling plane but did not have time enough to open his parachute, police said.

Carranza was only 22 and was married but recently. He was a grandnephew of the late President Carranza of Mexico, and was that country's premier aviator.

Mexico Mourns.

MEXICO CITY, July 14.—It's popular shock and grief-stricken, all Mexico today mourned the untimely death of its greatest aviator, Capt. Emilio Carranza. The idol of the people of Mexico, much as Col. Charles A. Lindbergh is the idol of the people of the United States, the 22-year-old flier had won the hearts of his compatriots by his many daring exploits in the air.

He was to have been feted today in one of the country's greatest celebrations. But grim fate prevented him from completing his non-stop flight to this from New York, and solemn dirges today took the place of the gay celebration planned.

Plane Never Sighted.

His plane was never sighted in the air after leaving Roosevelt field. As the time passed without his being reported anywhere, anxiety grew, but while wires buzzed up and down the Atlantic coast as officials sought to locate him, the youthful flier lay dead in a berry patch in New Jersey. His plane had crashed in a storm less than an hour after leaving Roosevelt field.

By orders of President Calles, Carranza's body will be brought back here for burial. He will be given a funeral with full military honors. It is expected a period of national mourning will be proclaimed.

BACK-TO-FARM DRIVE BEGINS

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The dearth of industrial employment is driving men back to the farms, according to the department of agriculture.

Due to an increase of available farm labor, which in turn is caused by a "lower volume of industrial employment," wages for farm labor of all classes are lower today than a year ago, a department report declared.

Farm wages today, however, are 79 per cent higher than the pre-war level, the report said.

DEMS PLEDGED TO M'NARY BILL, SAYS PITTMAN

Nevada Senator Hits "Misinterpretations" of Plank.

IRE IS AROUSED Says Party Has Right to Abandon "Equalization Fee."

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Criticizing "misinterpretations" of the Democratic plank on agriculture, Senator Key Pittman of Nevada, chairman of the Houston platform committee, today declared that the party is pledged to the theory of the McNary-Haugen bill.

To force effective cooperative marketing, however, the party has the moral right to abandon the "equalization fee" and select another method, he explained.

Pittman's ire was aroused by an editorial in an eastern Democratic newspaper declaring that the McNary-Haugen bill and its principles had been spurned by both parties.

"The agricultural plank is endorsed by nearly all farm leaders, while at the same time it is almost universally criticized by writers on the ground that it in no way supports the theory of the McNary-Haugen bill," said Pittman. "This difference of opinion is natural. The farmers understand the problem and the writers do not. The farmers understand what was in the McNary-Haugen bill and the writers do not."

GOV. AL SMITH ANSWERS ATTACK

ALBANY, N. Y., July 14.—Governor Al Smith today bitterly denounced William Allen White, Kansas editor, and the Rev. O. R. Miller of Albany, superintendent of the New York State Civic league and editor of the "Reform Bulletin" for picturing him as a friend of the saloon.

This was the first time the governor had struck out straight from the shoulder at his political foes since he was nominated for the presidency by the Democratic party and he sailed into his enemies with all the force at his command.

Striding up and down the big reception room in the executive mansion in his shirt sleeves, the governor charged that the Rev. Mr. Miller was an "admitted liar," and that Editor White "ought to have more brains than let Miller tell him what to say." Governor Smith's face flushed deeply when he was questioned about White's recent attack in which he pictured the Democratic presidential standard bearer as having always voted for the saloon and the liquor interests when he was a member of the New York Legislature.

Labor Delegate Shot to Death.

CHICAGO, July 14.—Authorities today sought two men who late last night shot and killed Joseph Paul, 36, labor delegate and brother of Frank Paul, business agent of the plasterers' union.

Paul was shot as he sat in an automobile waiting for his brother in front of a saloon.

$1,000 REWARD OFFERED FOR BERWALD LAD

Son of Wealthy Cleveland Broker Missing in Omaha.

CHUM IS KILLED

Youth Disappeared Following Beating With Hose.

OMAHA, Neb., July 14.—Percy Reece Stephens, nationally known voice instructor and musical conductor of New York City, acting on behalf of Robert S. Berwald, millionaire Cleveland real estate broker, today posted a reward of $1,000 for recovery of the body, dead or alive, of James Berwald, 17-year-old son of the Cleveland man.

Young Berwald disappeared following a beating with a rubber hose in the hands of a railroad special agent, when he and a chum, Gordon Grigor, were caught "bumming" a ride on a freight train.

During the encounter with the agent, Grigor either was pushed or fell between the cars of a freight train and died of his injuries in an Omaha hospital. The tragedy occurred near Ashland, Neb.

"I am confident, through my intimate association with Jimmie, that he would have communicated with either his father or myself in case he was alive," Mr. Stephens said. "It is possible he had sufficient strength to walk some distance and is now lying unconscious in that vicinity."

Mr. Stephens, on behalf of the distraught father and mother, urged Boy Scouts and farmers in the vicinity to make a thorough search within several miles' radius of the scene.

With the arrival of Mr. Stephens in Omaha, a sweeping investigation was launched by authorities of two counties into the death of young Grigor and the disappearance of his chum.

billion dollars. That is what you might call a business.

Some time between midnight and 1 o'clock yesterday morning the electric chair at Eddyville, Ky., killed seven men—three Negroes and four white.

Eight minutes is allotted for each killing, just time enough to get a man into the room, tie him down, finish and remove him.

Eight minutes, and what kind of eternity after it? The men would like to know that.

Noguchi, admirable Japanese scientist, killed by yellow fever while studying that disease in Africa, leaves everything to his wife. Twelve thousand dollars is the total fortune of the dead man. He did not work for money, but for a name. And his name is honored everywhere on earth. He succeeded.

What follows interests druggists, and all that have teeth or take baths, and especially those interested in that schoolgirl complexion.

There is to be a merger of Colgate and Company with Palmolive Peet company. These concerns do a business of $100,000,000 a year, which proves that we are as clean as we are rich.

This nation still has money to lend. In six months Europe has borrowed one billion, fifty-three millions from us, and there is plenty more where that came from.

The United States has an income of one hundred billions a year, ten billions more than it costs to live. So we lend.

Some day we shall wish we had invested our billions nearer home.

One cheerful feature in our national business is our trade of almost two thousand million dollars with Latin America.

Before the war our South American trade was only $350,000,000. And we have more than a billion invested in South America, against $100,000,000 in 1914.

Italy, in memory of her victory over Austria, unveils a monument which originally bore this inscription: "From This Point We Have Driven the Barbarian Language, Laws and Arts."

Mussolini has changed "Barbarian" to "Foreign," but still Austria is of fended.

For three thousand years "barbarian" has been a word of deep insult along the Mediterranean. Everybody outside of Greece was a barbarian, to the Greeks, of whom none could legally marry an outside woman. That caused all of Japan's trouble, after he brought back his highstrung barbarian wife, who had helped him get what he wanted. For details that would make even Mussolini shudder, see Euripides.

DEAD MEXICAN ACE AND HIS FRIEND

DEFER DECISION IN HOPPE CASE

TOLEDO, July 14.—The three common pleas judges sitting at a tribunal in the case of Charles (Stanley) Hoppe, confessed slayer of his 7-year-old cousin, Dorothy Siciagowski, announced today that they would not give a decision until sometime next week. A written opinion will accompany the decision, Judge Charles Miller, one of the tribunal, said today, after all have conferred on the briefs submitted by the state and defense.

The state holds in briefs filed yesterday, that while three dispositions of Hoppe's case can be made—Sentence to death, sentence to life, and sentence to the Lima state hospital for criminal insane—that "the people are insisting on justice, without fear or favor and swift and sure as eternal doom; and that the latter two alternatives set forth are unsatisfactory because they offer the loophole of eventual escape from full penalty of the crime."

YOUTH IS HELD IN FATAL CRASH

As an aftermath of an automobile crash on the East Palestine-Columbiana road on July 3, when Russell Faulkner, 20, East Palestine, was killed, Robert Foster 20, was held for a Columbiana county grand jury upon a charge of manslaughter by Justice O. V. Butts, East Palestine, yesterday. He posted $2,000 bond.

Foster was arrested upon information of Coroner J. M. Van Fossan, also of East Palestine, who charged him with reckless and careless operation of a motor car. Foster headed to ward East Palestine is alleged to have pulled from an eastbound line of traffic and crashed head-on into another automobile driven by Carl Welsh, East Palestine. Foster, Welch and another passenger in the Welsh car were injured.

AIRPORT READY AT GALLIPOLIS

GALLIPOLIS, O., July 14.—Plans for the dedication of the Gallipolis airport were being furthered today following the announcement setting August 23 as the tentative date by the citizens' committee.

Other cities of the state with airfields are expected to send representatives and a number of fields will send planes to take part in the dedication ceremonies, it was said.

A possible site for the church has already been selected, while a 10-acre tract is wanted for a hospital.

Cromwell Skeletons Found.

Four skeletons, believed to be those of Cromwell's soldiers killed in battle, have been unearthed in Edlington Hall Wood near Horncastle, England. One skeleton is of a fine specimen of manhood of exceptional stature and with perfect teeth. Embedded in the chest and ribs of another were a number of small holes, as though the body had been pelted. Near the skeletons were found several ornamental stones weighing about 300 pounds.

Blood of Indian Chiefs Flows in Curtis' Veins

G. O. P. Vice-Presidential Nominee Is a Real 100% American

By GRAHAM STEWART
International Illustrated News Staff Correspondent

For the first time in American history an Indian looms as likely to become Vice-President of the United States! This statement isn't as fantastic as it sounds, for—

Senator Charles Curtis, of Kansas, chosen by the Republicans of the country to be the running mate of Herbert Hoover, is a descendant of noble Indian chieftains, himself born on Indian territory in what is now North Dakota. The holder of a powerful position in the Senate, where he was for some time G. O. P. leader, and a statesman second to none, which fact he proved when he coaxed the insurgents of the upper house into party alignment, the vice-presidential nominee's grandmother was a member of the Kansas Tribe and was one-half Indian.

AIR TRANSPORT MAKES U. S. MAP SIZE OF TEXAS

Revolutionary Changes in Business Habits Predicted.

SPEED FACTOR

Companies Carry Mail, Express and Passengers.

CHICAGO—Air transport has shrunk the map of the United States to the size of Texas when you measure America in terms of transportation time. New York is more than twice as near to San Francisco as Washington, D. C., was to Philadelphia when the Constitution was framed.

American Air Transport association officials predict that the transportation of mail, express and passengers at 100 miles an hour will work as revolutionary changes in our business and social habits as the automobile did when it replaced the horse drawn vehicle.

Transportation Program.

Transportation and communication have been the yardstick by which all nations have measured progress. In America the first transportation was the Indian runner, followed by the pony express, then the stage coach, then the railroad, the auto, and now the airplane. Transport's expert has estimated that in a 12 hour period the following distance will be traversed: By team and wagon—20 miles; pedestrian—25 miles; horseback rider—35 miles; motor stage—300 miles; train—480 miles; airplane—1,200 miles.

Today air mail companies are carrying mail, express and passengers between New York and the Pacific coast cities in 32 hours. Communication and travel time between New York and Atlanta has been reduced from 24 hours by train to 10 hours by air mail; between St. Louis and St. Paul from 18 to 8 hours. These savings are only illustrative of the greater speed of air transport over the trains in all parts of the country.

In Old Days.

The fathers of the republic who complained that Washington was too far west to be the capital of the United States because it took five days to go by stage from Philadelphia to Washington and who predicted there never would be transportation over the Alleghenies, never dreamed mail would be transported from Philadelphia to Washington in half as many hours as it took days for delegates to traverse that distance when assembling for the meeting of the confederation of states.

Air mail, the backbone of commercial aviation, has even greater achievements ahead than its present day record of 100 miles an hour transport of mail, passengers and express.

Electric Cookery is Healthful

RETENTION of the essential vitamins is necessary to the health of children and grownups. Medical science has developed this principle and has described the food values that the human organism requires—and the electric art has made possible the preparation of food to meet those requirements. Electrically cooked foods not only taste better but they hold the original nutriment intact.

Electric cookery, the modern method of converting raw foods into palatable, healthful dishes, is economical, clean and convenient.

STANDARD SIX COACH reduced to $995

2,000,000 WILLYS-OVERLAND CARS AND GOING STRONG!

Superiorities of patented double sleeve-valve engine now enjoyed by new thousands

Lightning pick-up—a smooth, unfailing flow of power, effortlessly delivered mile after mile, year after year—an engine that is always at its best, as fresh at the end of a hard day's run as at the start—simplicity of design that insures remarkable freedom from repairs and carbon troubles—these are some of the many advantages enjoyed by more than 325,000 enthusiastic drivers of Willys-Knights.

Now, at a record low price, the new Standard Six brings you the quality supremacy for which Willys-Knight is famous. Mounting sales and greatly increased facilities enable us to offer this beautiful Six at a price never before possible.

HIGH COMPRESSION WITH ANY GAS

In this patented engine, two metal sleeves in each cylinder combine with the spherical cylinder head to form a perfectly sealed combustion chamber. This head directs the full force of the explosion straight downward, making the most efficient use of the highly compressed gas. As a result, the Willys-Knight engine gives high uniform compression at all speeds and with any gas.

Heeney's Right Best Weapon Against Gene In Title Battle

Champ Shows Weakness In His Training Bouts

And Challenger Happens to be That Kind of Puncher; Claim Tunney's Not Boxing as Well N or Hitting as Cleanly.

By Davis J. Walsh.
SPECULATOR, N. Y., July 14.—There seemed to be only two reactions worth recording today in connection with the impending epic for heavyweight supremacy and one of them has to do with the fact that Gene Tunney appears to be what is politely known as a sucker for a right hand punch. The other acknowledges the admitted fact that, if Tom Heeney isn't a right hand puncher of some mean degree, he is nothing at all and maybe much less.

The writer regrets exceedingly that he is forced to use a tap room term like sucker in connection with the heavyweight champion. Perhaps it would be much nicer to say that he appears very vulnerable in this respect, for I know he would like that expression even if he didn't consider it accurate in its application. Just how he could apply it otherwise, after being slathered with right hands during recent training bouts, is something that may be explained in detail but not by my handy pocket manual.

Too Much Dempsey.
Offhand, I would say that Tunney is suffering from the reaction of too much Dempsey during recent years. Since early in 1925, all of his boxing, his preparations, his thoughts have been confined to the matter of dealing with one of the great left hand punchers of the ages. He never had to feel a qualm about Dempsey's right; it was and is just a hand he uses for keeping his arm and elbow extended and at ease.

Tunney is an adaptable soul but this system of forever circling to his left to keep beyond the range of an opponent's left hook may have taken root in his subconscious mind. Anyhow, there seemed to be no other explanation available for the fact that Billy Vidabeck and Harold Mays, a couple of bright young men but hardly champions even in prospect, can't seem to miss Tunney with the right. They have been telegraphing the punch, more or less, too.

Exhibition Stuff.
The fallacy of passing final judgment on a fighter on training camp performances, especially with the fight twelve days away, has been proved before. What Tunney does and has done to him with the big gloves are things that may never happen when he gets in there with Heeney and I grant that much of his exhibition stuff here may be thrown out. But not all of it.

I wouldn't, for example, recommend we forget that Tunney is not boxing as well as one might have reason to expect; nor should the fact be overlooked that he doesn't seem to be punching as cleanly as he did in the two Dempsey fights. Those are the only faults that seem to be outstanding now but they must be considered for he won't be meeting a paid sparring partner that night nor a man who is not supposed to follow up any advantage too enthusiastically.

Fight Results

AT CHICAGO—Les Marriner, University of Illinois heavyweight, knocked out Hagan Hassen of Turkey (2).
Billy Showers, St. Paul welterweight, was awarded the decision over Johnny Sherrod of Chicago (6).
K. O. White of New Orleans outpointed Bennie Stanley of Kansas City (6).
Eddie Ballantine of Chicago, beat Santos Reed of Omaha (6).
AT ERIE, Pa.—Dick O'Leary, Wilkes-Barre, Pa., outpointed Howard Mayberry, Detroit, 10 rounds.
Johnny Carey, Erie, won decision over Cive Osborne, Cleveland, 6 rounds.
AT LONG BRANCH, N. J.—Phil Mercurio, New Rochelle, N. Y., heavyweight and a sparring partner of Tom Heeney, won decision overbattling Lovinsky, Philadelphia, 10 rounds.
AT COLUMBUS—Clyde Tremaine, 135 pounds, Columbus, outpointed Kid Woods, 135 pounds, Indianapolis, six rounds.
Wins Bet, Lands in Jail.
Walking down one of the principal streets of Glasgow, Scotland, on a chilly winter day, wearing nothing but a bathing suit and shouting loudly, Michael Casey was arrested. He explained to the judge that he had wagered that he could do the feat despite the weather. Casey was sentenced to 42 days in jail for disturbing the quiet of Glasgow.

New York A. C. Sends Its Team

Pays Expenses of Five Losers to Olympic Games.

BOARD THE S. S. PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, via Radio, July 14.—The gesture of protest made by the New York Athletic club against some of the official selections of the olympic committee, was the main topic of conversation today among the members of the American team on shipboard.

Between workouts, the athletes pondered deeply on the fact that the club was sending five men across at its own expense because its officials feel these men should have been selected in their various events.

Three of these men, Matt McGrath, veteran hammer thrower; Roland Locke, former University of Nebraska sprint star, and Weems Haskin, star hurdler from Alabama, are sailing from New York today on the S. S. Volendam. The other two, North Jackson, a wrestler, and Falt Elkins, Indian decathlon star, sail on the Berengaria tomorrow.

The officials of the New York A. C. feel that these men, although they failed to qualify for various reasons, are entitled to be on the olympic team. Major General Douglas MacArthur, olympic chairman, indicated in a statement yesterday, that he would give an open ear to any protests.

The popular shipboard belief is that

GOSsoon WINS PUT IN BAY RACE

PUT IN BAY, O., July 14.—By reason of her victory over Lightning, Gossoon, entry of the Bay View yacht club, Detroit, in the 35th annual inter-lake regatta, today stood the best chance of being chosen to enter the Richardson cup races at Rochester, N. Y., next month.

The Gossoon passed the line in the final class R canvas event Friday fully two minutes ahead of the Lightning, also of Detroit, skippered by M. R. Runny.

In winning the final class R event, the Gossoon for the third time cupped first place, a most unusual performance here. E. L. Kuertwarth, skipper of the sloop, had a total of 24 points to his credit as the regatta came to an end while the Lightning had 20. The Cleveland yacht club's Elvira finished third with 17 points.

The victorious Gossoon, designed especially to beat the Lightning, got some time best of the class R fleet.

Bruin Castoffs Make History as Cardinals

Rabbit Maranville and Alex in Great Comeback.

By DAVIS J. WALSH
NEW YORK, July 14.—Rabbit Maranville's resurrection from the living death that old timers in the minor leagues must do this is a multi-sided romance, the main theme of which revolves around the story of a man who beat the toughest opponent in the world—himself. However, at least one chapter of the tale might well ignore the theme note for the moment and devote itself to the fact that Maranville once played with the Chicago Cubs and is now a member of the St. Louis Cardinals.

There isn't much significance to this statement until it is amplified by the remark that Cub castoffs have survived the sad parting to make baseball history in St. Louis. The inference constitutes no slight on Chicago intelligence, either; it simply has been Pate's decree that men who outlasted their welcome in Chicago became indispensable to the success of the St. Louis club during the harvest seasons of 1925 to 1928 more or less inclusive.

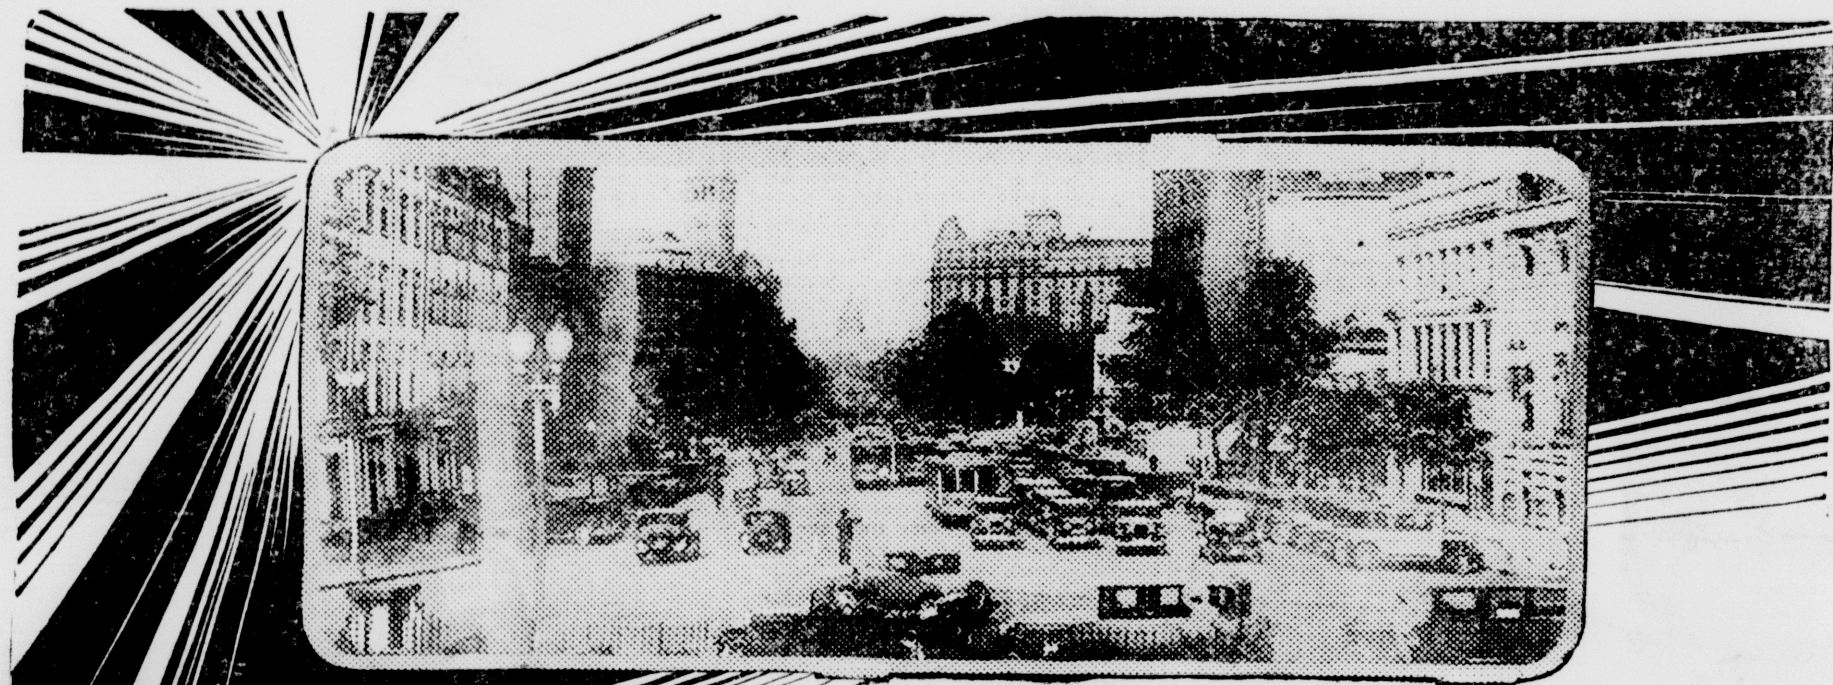

Roundabout Return
Maranville has come back via Brooklyn and the International League to take over Thevenow's position in the Cardinal infield. He previously wasn't wanted anywhere. Therefore, the Cubs had to be held blame-worthy in this case; they merely concurred in a unanimous verdict.

Alexander was kicked out of Chicago because he thought training was something you did on a railroad. He passed to St. Louis with no other bidders visible in the offing and what he did for the Cards during the 1926 season and the ensuing world series is history. Training or no training, Joe McCarthy probably would have been able to restrain his distemper in the Alexander matter if Old Pete had been a winning pitcher at the time. But he wasn't; in fact, he looked the part of a passe specimen who didn't have the gumption to protect a good thing. The incident of his transfer to St. Louis was the best thing that could have happened to him in the circumstances, for it awakened a dormant ambition.

The next exhibit is the last, making only three, all told. But what a thumping big three they are.

Made Big Success
Bob Farrell also was eased out of Chicago to become famous in St. Louis. I think this happened in the Killefer regime and the reason is generally understood to have been incompatibility. In this connection, it was significant that when O'Farrell was named manager of the Cardinals early in 1927, Killefer quietly packed his duffle and moved over to the Browns. Anyhow, it doesn't injure my story that O'Farrell since has been traded to the Giants, for he left behind him the record of having been one of three great factors in the Cardinals' success of 1926. So effective was his contribution that he was named the league's most valuable player for that season almost by a unanimous vote.

Alexander, O'Farrell, Maranville! I wonder what the Cubs would give for them now. As a matter of fact, they probably wouldn't take them with trading stamps. Some men would rather be right than be successful and I think Joe McCarthy is one of them.

In Washington, too, Essex Super-Six outsells all other "sixes." This is but part of a national and world preference that makes Essex sales the largest of any six-cylinder car in history.

ESSEX-mirrors public choice

The most important thing ever said of Essex is said by buyers in the largest 6-cylinder sales, and the most overwhelming competitive preference of automobile history.

It is a preference you will endorse and share the moment you see and ride in the Essex.

The New Essex Super-Six is a delight to the eye—in lines, in fine exterior appointment and in careful finish that invites and repays the closest examination.

Within, this satisfaction to eye and sense is apparent in every detail. The quality of the high-backed, form-fitting seats—richly upholstered—impresses you immediately. At the slender, graceful wheel, you look out over the shining beauty of cowl, hood, saddle-type lamps, heavy, arching fenders, to the winged radiator figure that expresses the spirit and fleetness under your hand. You have before you the handsome grouping of dials and meters upon the beautiful ebony instrument board. Starter and electro-lock are there to your hand, too. Bendix four-wheel brakes give smooth, positive stopping action and an added sense of greater security. All doors are weather-stripped. The body is of silenced construction, adding to the notably quiet operation of Essex.

And then you have the famous Essex chassis, powered with the Super-Six high-compression, high efficiency motor that turns waste heat to power, giving brilliant sustained performance never before known in this field.

To see, to examine, to ride in the New Essex Super-Six can bring only one conclusion—it is the World's Greatest Value—altogether or part by part.

Giants Facing Tough Series In Cincinnati

McGrawmen Must Win to Hang on to Third Place.

By Les Conklin.
NEW YORK, July 14.—Deposed from the runner-up position and barely hanging on to third place, the shell-shocked New York Giants staggered into Cincinnati today in poor shape for another series of decisive engagements. Drawn and quartered by the rejuvenated Pirates, and riddled by a deadly barrage of base hits in St. Louis, the McGrawian maulers have dropped six out of eight games in their western tour.

While New York and Cincinnati are battling for second place, the Chicago Cubs will be engaged in the pleasant pastime of bowling over the Phillies. It looks like a good spot for the Bruins to ease themselves into second place.

Meanwhile the Cardinals will take on Brooklyn. The Red Birds mauled four New York pitchers yesterday and won by an 11 to 6 margin, although the Giants did put on a six-run rally climaxed by pinch hitter Jack Cummings' homer with the bases loaded. All other teams were idle.

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., July 14.—Tommy Loughran, light heavyweight champion, ruled a 5 to 4 favorite today to defeat Pete Latzo in their ten-round bout here next Monday despite the fact that thousands of Latzo's friends in the anthracite regions are backing the former Scranton miner to the limit.

Cities Responding To Urge for Building Convenient Air Fields

CHICAGO—Towns and cities all over the United States are responding to the urge of the department of commerce for more airports, intermediate fields and auxiliary fields have been added to the 1,600 available at the close of last year, figures obtained by the American Air Transport association have revealed. In addition to these classified fields there are more than 4,000 other fields owned by states, municipalities, commissions and various organizations on which landings may be made.

The great majority of these fields are municipally owned or operated and operation efforts have been made by cities on air mail routes to improve their fields while cities anxious to be included in the expanding lines of air mail routes are, in many cases, acquiring and developing landing fields.

POILU FIRES AT JUDGE, WINS PENSION BOOST

R. A. Noel Was Not Satisfied With Allowance.

ENDS ARGUMENT
Court Convinced Defendant is Not Responsible.

PARIS.—Shoot the judge and win your case. At least that is what Robert Alexander Noel did and he won. Noel was a former adjutant of aviation and was badly wounded in July, 1916. Since then he has become an undertaker's helper.

The French government pensioned Noel out of the army on a 25 per cent basis. Noel was not satisfied with the amount of his pension and brought suit against the government claiming 60 per cent disability.

The case came up before the eighth chamber at the Palais de Justice. Noel's lawyer, Mlle. Raymond Lefevre, claimed that her client was mentally unbalanced since his wound and thus unable to earn a satisfactory living.

After the lawyer's pleading Judge Beaufils called the plaintiff. Noel stood up. Wild eyed he strode to the bar. Without warning he cried: "I'm a badly wounded man you don't pay me enough."

With this he pulled a revolver from his pocket and fired twice toward the judge.

The clerk of the court and another lawyer, Alfred Godard, seized the soldier and disarmed him.

The bullets passed within two inches of the judge's head and embedded themselves in the wall.

Mlle. Lefevre then calmly stood before the judge and said:

"You see, your honor, my client is not responsible."

"No," responded Judge Beaufils. "I can see that. We'll give him 60 per cent."

Praise Letters Stopped.

Indiscriminate giving of letters of recommendation to representatives of foreign magazines, newspaper directories and the like who visit the city in quest of business, has been discontinued by the Camar Nacional de Comercio, the chamber of commerce of Tampico, Mexico. The announcement of the stand, recently made, declares that such letters have been given so freely that they have lost their value and many were issued merely to accommodate friends or to avoid molestation.

WITH Earl Sande having announced his retirement as a jockey at the close of the present racing season, nominations seem to be in order.

When, and if, Sande really does hang up the silks for the final time, at the close of this season, a great character in the track history of the country will pass along the rails leading to the paddocks, and there'll be a vacant place for a promising pilot.

For years Sande has ruled the turf as the premier jockey. He's kicked home many winners season after season and he's earned his place and fought to retain it. A serious accident all but put him off the tracks for life, but he came back. Some time ago he was "set down" and a national, public indignation was aroused. He is back piloting winners again on the Eastern tracks this year, but this time it looks as if he will surely pass into the ranks of the trainers—the fellows who do their bit to further the glories of the fellows who must miss the shouts of the galleries which they were accustomed to receive when they were wearing the silks and steering the winners under the tape.

Who is to take the throne room in jockeyville?

Who is to follow in the footsteps of such riders as Ted Sloan, Walter Miller, Willie Shaw, Isaac Murphy, Fred Taral, George Odum, Carroll Shilling and Joe Notter—famous in their day as pilots—and later, Earl Sande?

Right now it looks as if Laverne Fator, the Ramcocas Stable ace, has the inside track over all of the competitors. His work this season has been outstanding. While his riding is centered largely around the Eastern tracks, he has been seen in some of the famous classics throughout the Middle West and with racing becoming more and more popular around Chicago, he will probably be shot out there on special trips before the close of the present racing season.

While it is difficult to compare the ability of horse pilot at one generation with those of another, the racegoers in general seem to concede that Fator is the best of the present day riders. Comparing riders of today with those of yesterday is like comparing horses of yesterday with those of today and snags of one sort or another are usually encountered in making such comparisons.

Two decades ago there were a dozen good riders against every one we have now and a jockey had to be a real jockey to stand forth under such circumstances.

Today the competition is less keen.

Rainbow Complete Circle.

That he had seen, for the first time in his 13 years of flying, a complete circular rainbow, was declared by a pilot in the Imperial Airways of England. He says that he was approaching the English Channel on his way from Paris to London when he saw the vividly-colored rainbow, which formed a perfect circle, through the center of which he appeared to fly.

New Golf Idea in Africa.

Cyril Tolley of England has started a new golf idea in South Africa that is finding followers there. It is the carrying of left-handed golf clubs for use when it is difficult for a right-hander to get a good stance. There is now a demand there for left-handed mauls, and it is the usual thing to see players making practice shots with them on the courses.

Cubs' Four-Ply Apple Knocker Battles Curve Ball Pitchers

Hack Wilson Would Like to Try American Loop Speed; He's Sure He'd Get at Least 20 More Homers Every Year.

JUST how much does the pitching encountered in the American League and the National League affect the ability of the batters to smash the onion for the circuit?

Hack Wilson, famous outfielder of the Chicago Cubs and up among the leaders in the older loop, when it comes to cracking home-run wallop, feels confident that he could fatten his total by at least twenty more round-trip smacks per season if he were transplanted into the junior circuit or was hitting against American League pitching.

The shortening of outfields in various parks through—in some cases—the alleged need of extra seating capacity and the use of a livelier ball, has greatly enhanced the chances of home-run hitters since the days when Frank Baker, of the Athletics, was considered quite a cut-up in the round-tripper's ranks with a dozen or so circuit drives for the season.

What is Easier?

But does the twirling served up in the American League favor the full-trip hitter more than the pitching in the National League?

Hack Wilson figures that it does. There'll likely never be an opportunity for Hack to test it out as it is hardly possible that the Cub management will give the 150-pound mauler the air, and it is a certainty that the American League pitching staff en masse will not be transferred over to the older circuit. So Wilson will apparently have to continue with predictions on what would happen if.

Of course there remains the World's Series, but even if the Cubs should win the center and be pitted, say against the Yankees, the series is far too short to prove things definitely and then, too, Wilson would only be hitting against one pitching staff in the junior league. So predictions will have to be in order and Hack's prediction, probably, is as good as the next one.

Wilson's contention—and it is backed by other sluggers in the National League—revolves about the fact that speed is the specialty in American League pitching whereas in the older circuit the twirlers serve up plenty of tenders and attempt to fool the batsmen with a chance of pace. In other words the flingers in the National are curving more than the boys in the American, and as a consequence the ample knockers in the older loop have to pick out their few home-run wallops from an assortment of hooks.

They Curve 'em.

Hack accuses the pitchers who oppose the Cubs with trying to slide sly curves off his bat instead of merely trying to toss the ball past him—and it's all very disconcerting. Especially to a batter like the Chicago mauler who goes up to the platter with only one thought in mind—that thought being to swat the leather for a round trip.

Clicking curved balls usually results in the ball finishing a trip in the hands of an outfielder, whereas connecting with a speedy ball usually means socking it out of the ball park or into the bleachers.

Despite the fact that Wilson, who, by the way, is a former New York Giant, deprecates the fact that he has to hit against hooked pitching while Ruth and the other American League swat kings are favored with speed, the Chicago fence-buster will probably continue to smash out the circuit slams and stands a good chance of bettering his last year's mark when he tied with Cy Williams, of Philadelphia, for home-run honors with a total of 30.

He sure enjoys hitting the round trippers.

Rev. Leo Flood Sings High Mass in Chester

Recently Ordained Priest Will be in Charge of Services in Sacred Heart Church on Sunday.

The Rev. Leo Flood, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Flood, St. Petersburg, Fla., formerly of Chester, who was ordained to the priesthood on June 24 at Notre Dame university, South Bend, Ind., will celebrate his second solemn high mass tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock in the Sacred Heart Catholic church, Fifth street and Indiana avenue.

The Rev. Father James H. Smith, assistant pastor of the St. Aloysius church of East Liverpool, will be deacon of the mass, while the Rev. Father W. J. Sauer, pastor of the Sacred Heart church, will act as sub-deacon and preach the sermon.

Vespers will be held Sunday night at 7:30 when the sermon will be given by Father Flood.

Confers With Al

Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross, former governor of Wyoming and prominent in the councils of her party, arrived in New York for a conference with Governor Smith and other leaders about the campaign.

Father Flood, who lived here with his grandmother, Mrs. K. L. Smith, after his parents moved to Franklin, Pa., received his early education in the Sacred Heart parochial school. He completed his course at Franklin after which he entered Notre Dame university. During the last four years he pursued his theological studies at the Catholic University, Washington, D. C.

The young priest, who will probably be engaged in missionary work, celebrated his first solemn high mass at Franklin.

It is a good investment!

GENERAL ELECTRIC Refrigerator

When a refrigerator contributes to the health and comfort of the whole family for years to come... when a refrigerator cuts the tasks and the costs of housekeeping... then it proves itself a thoroughly sound investment.

The General Electric Refrigerator does all these—and a great many more. It operates economically because it has an unusually small, but highly efficient motor. This consumes surprisingly little current. Then, too, the top unit design allows all the heat generated to rise above the cabinet—not through it.

For the housewife it means fewer trips to market. Its shelves are so very roomy. The compact chilling chamber takes up very little space and allows the greatest possible shelf area for food. And the scientific cold keeps everything lusciously fresh and healthfully sound. Food wastage is absolutely unknown.

You owe it to yourself to see these quiet, simple, economical refrigerators. Why not come in today and study them carefully. Compare them with all others before you buy.
